

PATIENT

Information Fact Sheets

DIAGNOSTIC ENDOSCOPY CENTRE

COELIAC DISEASE

Coeliac disease is a common disease affecting more than 1% of the Australian population.

What is Coeliac Disease?

Coeliac disease is a common disease affecting more than 1% of the Australian population.

What is the cause of Coeliac Disease?

The cause is an allergy to a protein called gluten which is found in foods containing wheat, barley and rye.